HONDO, MEDINA COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1946

NUMBER ELEVEN

SPARKS

Mrs. R. M. Chapman sold a refrigerator recently and gave the proceeds to our local self-supporting department.

Her husband sold a bull just a couple of weeks earlier, donating the proceeds to St. John's church.

Postal regulations prevent any kind of raffles, lotteries, drawings, or other games of chance. This is part of the law that governs the printing of newspapers.

Fletcher Davis has consented to be a weekly columnist for The Anvil Herald, and his first one appears this week. His comments will be of interest to all, and he has full authority to say whatever he wishes on any subject. We feel sure that many of his friends will follow this column closely every week, and the people who are new subscribers will enjoy his well written paragraphs.

Tom, Tom the Piper's Son may have lost his pig, but it's too bad The Anvil Herald wasn't running in those days. Reason — W. R. McCracken has his pig, which John Hartmann advertised last week. The very next day after the ad was printed, McCracken came to pick up the piggy porker. Here's what was said about the little wanderer:

FOUND — A 7-weeks old Sherbourne black and white pig. Owner claims by paying for the ad and W. J. Hartmann, Hondo (4c10)

Three little girls came running in from the front door the day after school started. They looked around for a minute, then one of them said, "Where's the machine that makes the funny papers?" Now that was a difficult question for us to answer, because we don't print any comics. So we pointed out the big press to them, and tried to tell them what it did.

Another change is being made in the Anvil Herald staff this week. Patrick J. Galvin becomes the editor. He will assume the duties that have been handled by William Berger. Berger will now devote his time to the business management of the paper, including advertising, printing and circulation work.

Bill Bousman, for the past several weeks a familiar figure in downtown Hondo, is leaving today for California. Bill has been a great help in getting The Anvil Herald reorganized and it is with genuine regret that we see him go. We wish him the best of luck in his California enterprise, and predict that it will be a mighty fine success.

MANGOLD ANNOUNCES FOR COMMISSIONER

Hilmer L. Mangold, Castroville, is announced as a candidate for the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 2 of Medina county.

Mangold, if elected, will fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of late Herman Bippert who held the office for eight years until he was drowned in the flood waters east of Castroville about two weeks ago while carrying out his official duties.

Born and reared in Castroville, Mangold has been doing road work in the precinct for the past 12 years and is very familiar with all roads in the section.

Since his name will not appear on the official ballot, it will have to be written in by the voters at the November general election.

Mangold states that all votes and support will be greatly appreciated.

Surplus Property Depot In Hondo

Devine Youth Fish For Nickels at Barbecue Station at Airfield To Serve Southwest

Mann and Haass Cook the Dinner

The youngsters forgot their bait, but that's all right, because what they're fishing for don't bite anyway. They are after bottles inadvertently dropped into the creek, which will net them 1 nickel, all profit, when turned in at the truck. Left to right are David Rihn and Frank Rihn Jr., both of Devine, and Russell Jungman of LaCoste.

Pictured below are two of the men who helped make it a big day. Ralph W. Haass, left, probably snatched the baseball cap from his brother, Red Haass, pitcher for the Devine baseball team. A. A. Mann wields the fork which turned the several steers cooked for the doings.

A large crowd braved the heat and the constant threat of showers to attend the Devine Barbecue. Supplies were plentiful for both eating and drinking. The picnic was for the benefit of the St. Joseph School building in Devine and was held at Schott's park.

The Erwin-Clark corporation has been designated as agent for the War Assets Administration to set up a huge volume sales depot at the Hondo airfield.

Offices of the corporation have already been opened in the old instrument repair building and, according to William Hitchcock, manager of the station, business is already being transacted.

The office, dealing in sale of surplus air corps equipment, will handle equipment for all phases of aircraft maintenance, including all necessary accessories. Nearest agency similar in scope is in Wichita, Kan.

Seventy five such agencies have been designated by the W. A. A. to dispose of some $2 billion worth of Air Corps materials, but most of them deal in specialized lines only. The depot will sell everything except office equipment and automotive equipment.

Hitchcock pointed out that all sales will be on a volume basis. There will be no retailing. For instance, the smallest carton of flashlights available contains 125 flashlights, so a carton of 125 will be the smallest unit handled at the depot. The depot will have everything from 3,000 volt cables for underground use to wrist and pocket watches.

Long Range Program

Prices of the surplus goods handled at the airfield will be the prevailing prices in industry. If goods are sold to manufacturers, they will be sold at the prevailing price to manufacturers, and if to wholesalers, at the prevailing price in wholesaling. Prices will be subject, of course, to O. P. A. and C. A. P. rulings.

Erwin-Clark also has a contract for disposition on industrial machinery which, according to Hitchcock, includes everything from complete rolling mills, cranes and tractors, to ordinary small shop tools.

A long range program is envisioned, Hitchcock said, whereby the corporation will eventually have a plant of aircraft shops on part of the airfield site. He ascribed these plans to "the ideal climatic and physical conditions" found in Hondo.

At present, he said, there are $2.5 million worth of goods here, and there are still about 120 van loads coming from Kelley Field. When that field is completely closed down there are nine other fields to be cleaned out.

One van load came in Wednesday afternoon with between 3,600 and 3,700 watches, valued at $107,000.

Aid Hondo Vets

As soon as possible the corporation plans to set up a "very fancy" showroom at the field which will contain various displays of goods to be handled.

Property at present is leased from the W. A. A. through the district engineer. When and if plans go through for Hondo to take over the airfield, the lease will be transferred to Hondo. According to Allen Webster, secretary manager of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce, such plans are rapidly drawing to a head and a decision should be ready for publication before very long.

In the meantime, machinery to streamline the priority rights of World War II veterans in the purchase of war surplus goods is getting into gear. W. J. Walthall, San Antonio regional director of the W. A. A. has announced that Hondo is to be one of the districts selected for a visit by field crews explaining how, when and where to obtain surplus goods and certifying veterans on the spot.

This move was designed to eliminate long trips and absence from employment by veterans residing in outlying counties. The crews will also visit Alpine, Uvalde, Sanderson, Brackettville and Del Rio during the latter part of September and early in October.

Koch Withdraws From County Surveyor Race

Hilmar J. Koch, D'Hanis, has withdrawn from the race for the position of county surveyor. Mr. Hugo Schweers is the present surveyor, but has not announced that he will be a candidate for the position.

Mr. Koch has accepted a position with the Medina County AAA office, and although he will be available for private surveying work, he will devote considerable time to the AAA work. Mr. Koch said that he wanted to thank all those who have encouraged him in his campaign, and who helped in the circulation of the petition.

DOUGLAS RIFF HONORED BY DANFORTH FOUNDATION

Douglas Riff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Riff, Hondo, has been entered on the "I Dare You" honor roll of the Danforth Foundation, St. Louis, Mo.

The honor is in recognition of qualities of leadership as displayed by Riff in 4-H club work. Purpose of the Danforth Foundation is to encourage leadership in the United States.

Miss Helen Marie Schuchart of Cliff was also honored for leadership in 4-H club work.

FREE-FOR-ALL AT DEVINE LEGION DANCE

Five persons pleaded guilty to fighting and another released under $500 bond as a result of a free-for-all at the American Legion dance at Devine last Saturday night. Names were withheld pending action by the grand jury.

Person released under bond is charged with assault and attempted murder, having cut a long gash across the face of one of the fighters.

RICHTERS LEAVE FOR EASTERN VACATION TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Richter are leaving Friday on a three week's vacation trip which will take them to Philadelphia, Washington and New York. They plan to visit relatives in Philadelphia, and have business in Washington. Mr. Richter will close his law office until his return on Oct. 5.

Seven Medina Demos At State Convention

The militant democracy of Medina county was represented in the State Democratic convention which convened in San Antonio Tuesday, Sept. 10, by seven of the county's prominent democratic citizens.

Attending the convention were County Chairman Francis C. Richter, James E. Amberson, Ted Bretthauer, George A. Koch and Fletcher Davis, delegates from Hondo, joined by Joe Briscoe of Devine and Jordan T. Lawler of Castroville.

The delegates report a large attendance from all over the state with the machinery well under control of nominee-elect Beauford Jester. Preliminary speakers congratulated the assembly on "the harmony at last re-established in democratic ranks."

But the seeming harmony was broken in the early preliminaries when the question of seating the Harris county delegates was thrown into the convention. The delegates, duly elected by the county convention and certified by the chairman as prescribed by law, were contested by a rival delegation of dissenters.

After a roll call by counties, which occupied the greater part of the morning session, the "regular" delegation was seated by an overwhelming majority. Medina's delegates cast their three votes with the majority.

In the various senatorial district caucuses, 29th district captain Vernon Lyman of Midland was chosen as state committeeman and Mrs. Kate Hunnicutt was selected as committeewoman.

Mr. Richter was appointed to the committee on Platform and Resolutions, a committee which immediately tangled with a suggested resolution asking the repeal of the state primary election law. Mr. Richter opposed this resolution.

School Calendar For The Ensuing Year

The Hondo public school year which began on Monday, Sept. 9 will be divided into two semesters. The first term ends on Friday, Jan. 24, 1947 with midterm exams occurring during that week. The second semester will begin on Jan. 27, and school will close on Friday, May 30. Student report cards will be issued every six weeks.

Holidays listed for the school year are:

Armistice Day — Monday, Nov. 11. Thanksgiving holidays — Thursday and Friday, Nov. 28, 29. Christmas holidays — 2 weeks, school out on Dec. 20, start back again on Jan. 6, 1947. April 4 — Good Friday. April 25 — Fiesta de San Jacinto. Enrollment shrn

Enrollment Figures Of Schools

According to mid-week figures, the high school had 170 students enrolled, elementary school had 264, West Ward had 200, and Marian Anderson school had 23.

Fountains Given Public Schools

Students of the Hondo High and Elementary Schools are very proud of two new drinking fountains which have recently been completed on the school campus.

One of these fountains was made possible through the donation of funds from the past years high school seniors — the class of '46. The other was a gift of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. McWilliams and Mr. and Mrs. James Lynce.

Pruneda Delegates Back From Convention

Five members of Pruneda post 524, American Legion, have returned from Galveston where they served as delegates to the Texas legion convention. They are R. Dominguez, R. Barrientes, I. Hernandez, A. Preciado and M. Perez.

The delegates spent four days in Galveston, staying at the Lamar Hotel where they had reservations in advance.

Pruneda post was presented with the American colors at a special ceremony Aug. 31. Colors were presented by the Woodsmen of the World, and the post organized a platoon led by A. Hernandez to demonstrate with close order drill.

Planned in the near future by the post is the purchase of an American flag to fly over the Latin American school, and American Legion jackets for the members.

One of the youngest in the state, Pruneda post was organized last February with 50 charter members. Membership has grown to 90, and all are World War II veterans of Latin American descent.

St. John's School Announces Schedule

St. John's School opened on Sept. 3, and enrollment during the second week was 36. School hours are from 8:00 until 3:00.

Instructors of the students are Sister Carthage, who serves as principal and teacher of the 6th, 7th, and 8th grades; Sister Kevin, teacher of the 1st and 2nd grades; and Sister Christopher, teacher of the 3rd, 4th, and 5th grades.

"Our Mother of Sorrows' School"

Sister M. Mark is the teacher of "Our Mother of Sorrows' School" which includes grades 1, 2, and 3. Enrollment of this Latin American school is 45 at the present time, and the hours are from 8:00 until 3:00.

School Holidays To Be Observed

Holidays will occur on the following days for these two schools: Nov. 1, Friday — All Saints. Nov. 28-29, Thursday and Friday Dec. 23 to Jan. 6 — Christmas. April 3, Holy Thursday to April 7, inclusive — Easter Recess. April 21, Monday — San Jacinto Day or April 25, Friday — Battle of Flowers may be substituted. May 15, Thursday — Ascension of Our Lord.

Galvin Is News Editor Of Anvil Herald

Taking over as news editor of the Anvil Herald this week is Patrick J. Galvin, formerly of Aurora, Illinois. Pat left a position on the editorial staff of the Champaign-Urbana Courier, a daily paper in central Illinois, to come to Hondo.

Only 25 years of age, Pat is a veteran with ten years of experience in newspaper work which includes publishing, editing, reporting, and writing humor and editorial columns. While still in high school in Aurora he wrote a humor column which won national acclaim from Quill and Scroll, a national honorary society for journalists, and was adjudged the best columnist in the state of Illinois. He has sold humor scripts to nationally known radio comedians, and is author of numerous magazine articles.

While attending the University of Illinois, where he took a pre-law course, he wrote for two radio shows for the Champaign station WDWS and at the same time had his own half-hour weekly show for the USO.

During the war Pat spent two years overseas in China and Burma where he served with the Chinese Infantry. He was awarded the bronze star medal in Mangshih valley when he took command of a Chinese battalion, led them against a force of Japs outnumbering the Chinese five to one, and escaped with only four casualties while killing some 400 Japs.

Son of Atty. and Mrs. Lester J. Galvin of Aurora, he is married and Mrs. Galvin is teaching second grade in Hondo. She is a graduate of the University of Chicago and has attended, in addition, the University of Iowa, the University of Illinois, and Carthage (Illinois) college. She has had experience teaching all eight of the lower grades.

VET AG CLASSES

There will be a meeting tonight at 7 o'clock in the community center for all veterans interested in agricultural training under the G. I. Bill of Rights. The meeting will be over in time for the football game.

Community Center Drive Commenced

The Community Center Council, composed of representatives from each of the civic organizations, voted Monday night to begin a membership drive for the center beginning immediately. James Amberson was appointed chairman of the membership drive which began on Wednesday, Sept. 11.

This campaign is being made in an effort to raise funds to carry on the work of the community center. Over $300 per month is required for its normal functions and at the present time, available funds for its operation amount to less than $100.

Like the Fire Department and the Chamber of Commerce, the Community Center depends on donations for its funds — it has no regular allotment of money from any source.

At the Monday night meeting of the council, the decision was also made to ask for bids to open a concession for a snack bar in the center. Richard Reilly, Bob Kollman, and John McAnelly were appointed as a committee to publicize the asking for bids.

At the present time, the center is open from 3:00 until 6:00 in the afternoons each day and from 7:00 to 12:00 on Fridays and Saturdays. The library, under the direction of the Business and Professional Womens Club, is open from 7:00 until 9:00 on Friday evening.

"Bulldozing" Bull Is Making History On Jagge's Ranch Near Hondo

When someone buys a bull in the New York stock exchange, he is buying something at a low price expecting its value to go up. But ranchmen deal with a different kind of stock, and when P. C. Jagge, Hondo ranchman, bought a bull some time back he expected nothing more than his money's worth of bull.

Jagge bought the bull, a Hereford, from the Claude Herd Ranch near Beeville, and has proven that he can tell a good bull as well as a good cow can, because the bull has now become known as the "Bulldozing Bull of Hondo."

During the hot, dry summer when there was little grass on the range, the bull began a practice of pushing over small trees so that the green leaves could be eaten. He became so proficient at the job that he will take on almost any size tree, as long as it has leaves on it.

The herd follows him around and waits for him to push over a tree so they can get at the leaves. While the rest of the herd is stripping the leaves, the bull goes to another tree and pushes it over. Jagge said the bull has been at it for a long time and is about as efficient as a bulldozer.

Not content with just a bulldozing bull on his place, Jagge also has his chickens working overtime in a way that proves they are not just a bunch of dumb clucks. He has just about solved the tick infestation problem by placing a chicken coop at each watering place on the ranch. In each coop he puts a dozen chickens.

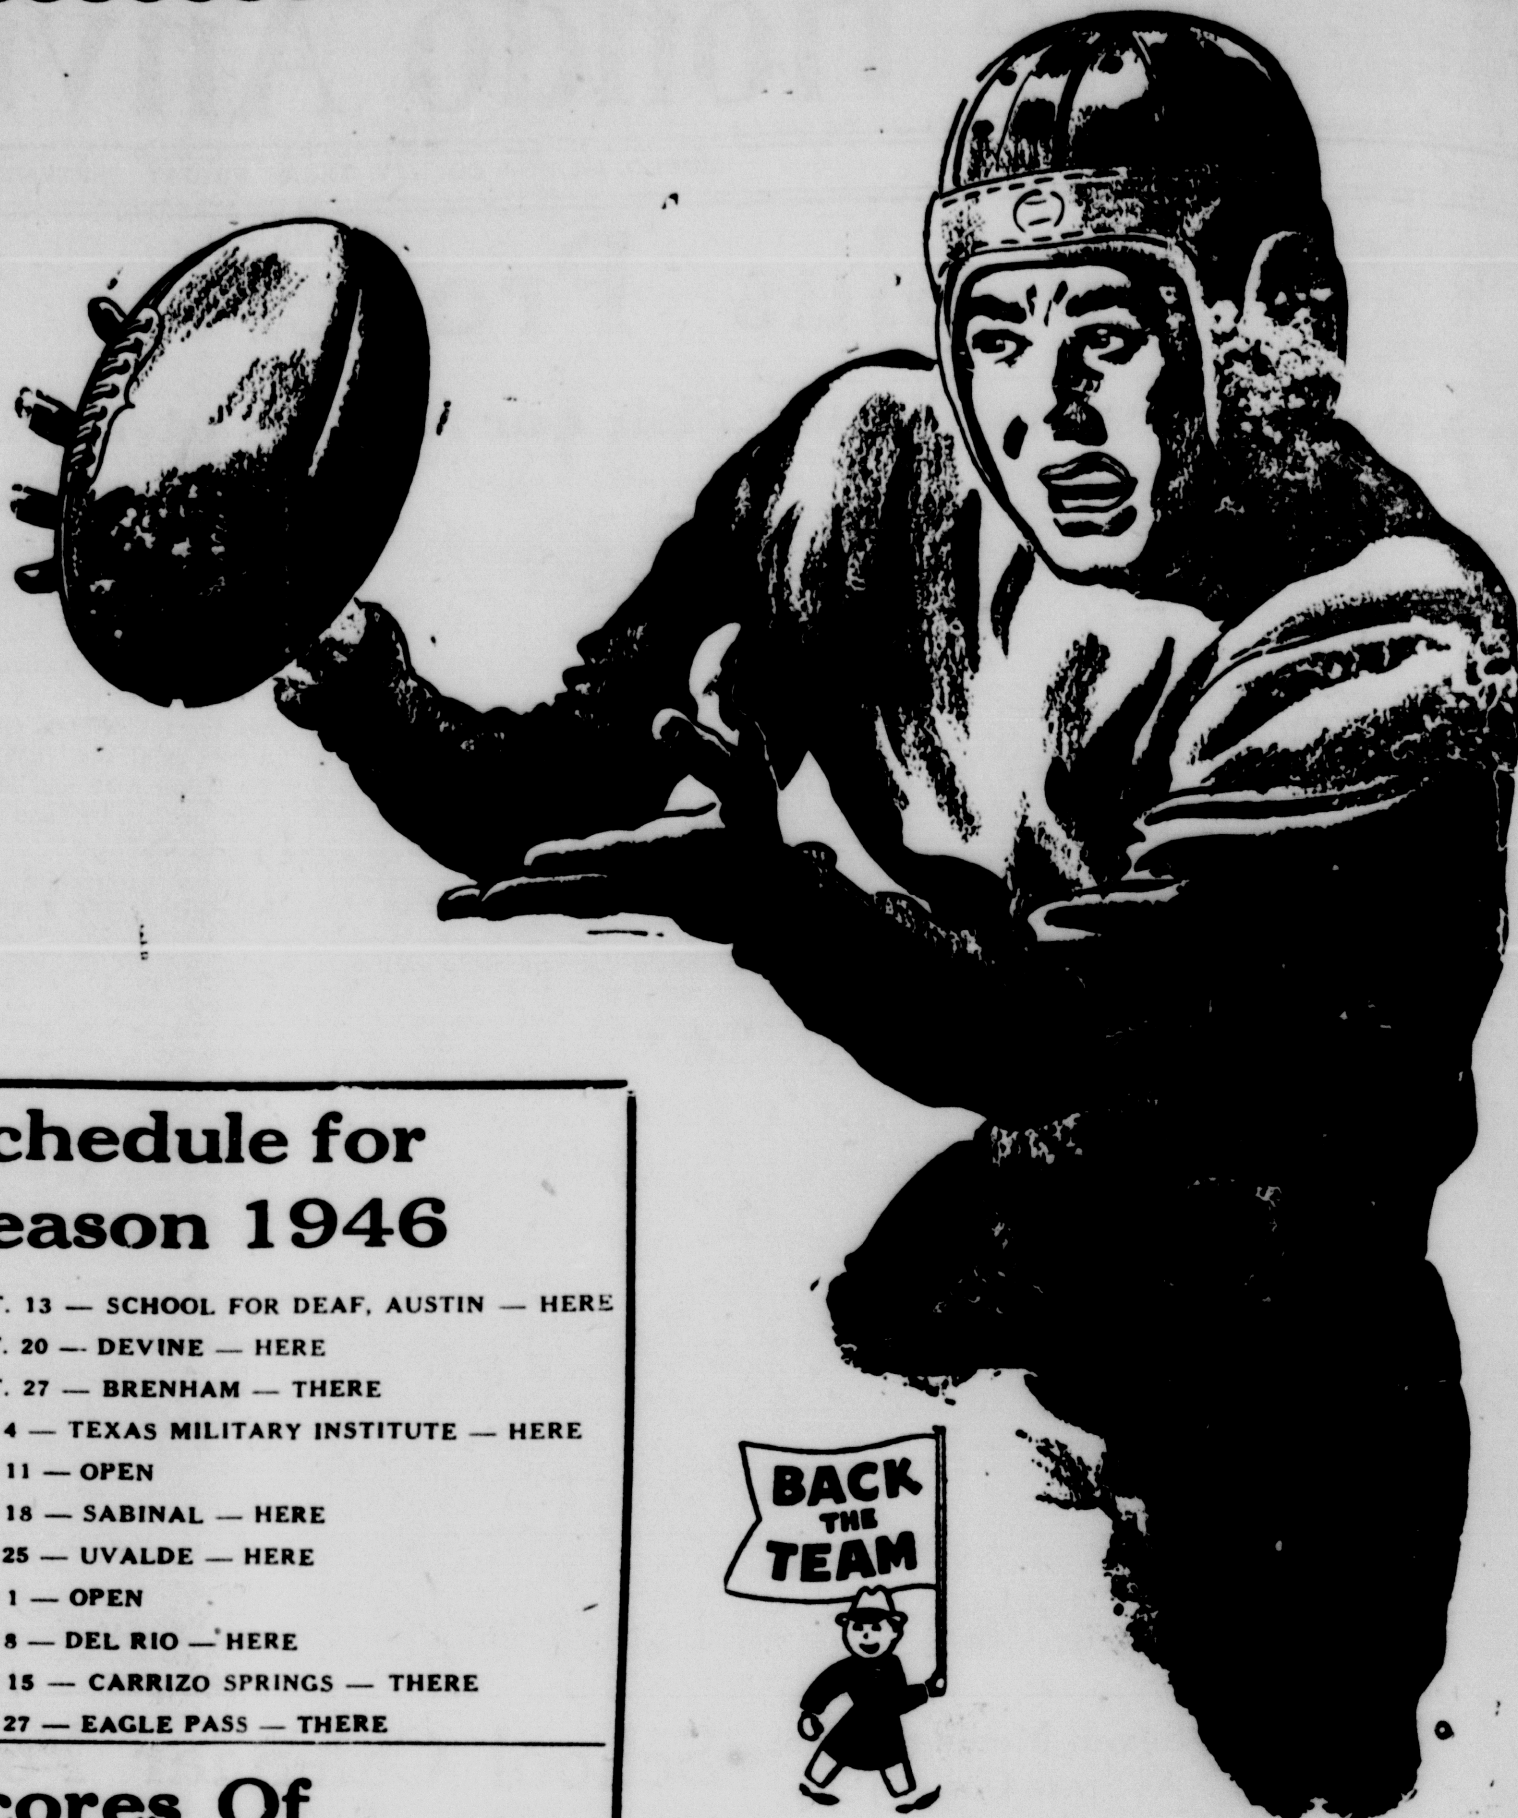

When cattle come to the watering place to drink, the chickens pick ticks from the animals. The plan has worked out so neatly that the cattle, showing no aversion to being hen-pecked, co-operate whole-heartedly with the chickens and kneel down so that every tick will be easily accessible to the chickens.

Jagge said that if it were not for the deer on his ranch, he would completely eradicate the ticks. However, since there is no co-operation between the deer and the chickens, he is finding it difficult to get rid of all the pests. He said it would be unnecessary to dip his cattle if it were not for the fact that the deer continue to carry ticks.

Good Luck!

Job Printing
Job printing in the early 19th century was only a small sideline of newspaper shops. By 1880 it was a distinct industry which employed 58.5 thousand wage earners in all most 3.5 thousand book and job shops. By 1937 there were 192 thousand wage earners in 13.9 thousand book and job plants

Soil Heating
The use of electricity for soil heating to speed the growth of plants was discovered by accident. An engineer in Norway 20 years ago observed that plant growth was superior near an underground cable. Investigation revealed an overloaded cable which was heating the soil.

Information regarding available county materials should be addressed to the Director, Hall of State, Fair Park, Dallas 1.

Biographical directories, booklets on the histories of towns, churches, schools and other institutions, are also desired for the library, along with histories of the county itself.

"Copies of these books and pamphlets are in the hands of pioneer citizens and their descendants," Director Herbert Gambrell said, "but they are not to be found in bookstores. Placing them in this great shrine of Texas History for the use of the public, will not only be a permanent memorial to the donors, but a genuine service to those seeking accurate information about the county."

LADIES NIGHT TUESDAY FOR LIONS CLUB

Tuesday night has been designated as Ladies Night by the Hondo Lions club, it was announced by Rudy Rath at a meeting Wednesday noon in the community center. Table arranging committee for the affair will consist of Fritz Leinweber, Marvin Grell and Bob Corder. The affair will begin at 7:15 p. m.

Roy Kile, who has recently returned from the service to his position as assistant coach of the Owls, presented a short speech on his service career. There were 46 members present.

SAFE DRIVING HINTS

Demount tires from wheels and check casings occasionally for bruises or breaks that might cause future trouble.

Have your wheels checked for alignment every 3,000 to 5,000 miles—or oftener if necessary. Incorrect alignment can reduce tire life 25 per cent.

"Ultimate Victory Is Assured"—In Battle Of Mosquitos

There is a meat shortage for everyone except the mosquitos, according to recent entomological research in the backyards of Hondo. It has also been firmly established that there is no shortage of mosquitos, chiefly because there has been no shortage of rain to assist them in breeding activities.

And if there were any famous entomologists around to consult, they would corroborate this information with a sentence roughly equivalent to "You ain't seen nothing yet."

The point is, the parent mosquitos lay their eggs in moist soil, but the eggs won't hatch until they are flooded. It then takes a period of from 10 to 20 days, depending on whether the weather is hot or cool, for these eggs to grow tucks and an appreciation for good meat. Our rains of a couple of weeks ago are responsible for the present mosquito population.

So don't blame last week's rains for this week's mosquitos. A brand new bloodthirsty generation is beating its head against the walls of shells flooded by the rains of the past 10 days, and open season on the populace is about a week away.

There is only one consolation, according to W. T. Mills, head of the Medina county health unit, and that is that the incidence of mosquito-borne disease is negligible. They are big and have plenty of pest value, according to Mills, but they don't monkey around with ill-natured germs.

Mills suggests that anyone having pools of water on his land, (idle pools are their favorite breeding places), take action to drain the water and thereby cut down on future population of the carnivorous critters. For, though not dangerous, red splotches on the face are not approved beauty or complexion aids and a good course of action would be to patch up the screens and always remember the bottle of oil of citronella.

SEPTEMBER NINTH OPENING FOR D'HANIS SCHOOLS

Sept. 9 was opening day for the schools of D'Hanis, both public and parochial.

D'Hanis High school ushered in the 1946-47 term with an assembly in the auditorium at 9 a. m. with members of the school board, the faculty, a number of patrons, and pupils in the audience.

R. F. Wolff, president of the board of trustees, welcomed the audience and introduced the new superintendent, John M. Slavik. The latter addressed his listeners on the subject of good citizenship and the part the public school of America plays in the training of patriotic citizens.

The pledge to the flag was led by Boy Scout Jerry Rainey, after which the national anthem was sung by the entire assembly. Registration of pupils took up the remainder of the morning.

High mass and benediction at 8 a. m. in Holy Cross church preceded the opening of St. Anthony's school Monday morning. The eight-grade parochial system is under the supervision of Sister M. Fiomina, superior of the school.

Haby Services Held At Castroville

Funeral services for Mr. Frank X. Haby of Rio Medina were held at 9 a. m. on Sept. 2 at the Tondre funeral home, Castroville.

Mr. Haby died at the age of 66 in the St. Rosa hospital in San Antonio at 8:55 a. m. Aug. 30 after a long illness and a serious operation performed on Aug. 27. Rosary was recited Sunday night at the Tondre Funeral Home, and before the interment a Requiem High mass was offered by Rev. J. Lenzen at St. Louis Catholic church. He was interred in the Catholic cemetery.

Born at Haby Settlement on Dec. 1, 1880, he was the seventeenth and youngest child of Jacob and Caroline Haby. He lived in Haby Settlement all his life, where he engaged in farming and stock raising.

On Nov. 28, 1811, he was married to Allie Seekatz of Rio Medina, who survives him. Other survivors include four children, Mrs. Daniel Keller, Mrs. George Holzhauser, Mrs. Ward Boehme, and Mrs. Harley Tschirhart; three grandsons, Carroll Thomas Keller, Gail Franklin Boehme, and Gary Holzhauser; four brothers, George of Utopia, Albert of Castroville, Ben of Dunlay, and Ambrose of Rio Medina; and three sisters, Mrs. Theresa Rihn, Castroville, Mrs. Margaret Haby, Dunlay, and Mrs. Norman Fraser, San Antonio.

Pall bearers at the funeral were all nephews of the deceased. They were Anton, Earnest and Harry Haby, Robert Boehme, Alton Seekatz and Otto Sittre. Cross bearer was Nelis Beck. Honorary pall bearers were from the Sons of Herman, of which Mr. Haby was a member, and included Joe and Robert Sittre, Paul Tschirhart, Theodore Haby, Dan Burrell and Fred Jagge.

Mrs. J. F. Schott and son, R. J. were San Antonio business visitors Monday.

G. I. Insurance Tips

KEEP NSLI BECAUSE it enables you and your family to enjoy life insurance protection at lower cost. Remember, part of the cost is dividend among all people of the U. S. as part of their debt to their veterans.

AS A CIVILIAN pay by making out the monthly check or money order to "Treasurer of the U. S." and mail it to Collections Unit, Insurance Service; Veteran's Administration; Branch Office No. 10; 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas. You can arrange to pay premiums monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually.

IF YOU DON'T get a premium notice, send the amount due to the Collections Unit anyway. Be sure to include full name, address, insurance certificate number and service number.

IF YOU DROPPED NSLI when discharged, you can reinstate it up to Jan. 1 by paying two monthly premiums and submitting a signed statement that you are in good health as when discharged. See your VA contact man.

YOU CAN CONVERT your term insurance into NSLI to ordinary life, 20 payment life, or 30 payment life, or one of several endowment types offered. You must convert within 8 years of the time your term insurance first went into effect, or within five years if it was bought after Dec. 31, 1945. You cannot convert it to private insurance.

CASH VALUE of your policy increases with each premium payment. For example, $10,000 of NSLI ordinary life, bought at age 30 and held for 20 years, will have cash value of $2,760.

YOU CAN BORROW on any NSLI permanent policy after it has been in effect one year. You can borrow up to 94 per cent of cash value.

YOU CAN CHANGE beneficiaries by writing to the Insurance Service department of the new Dallas branch no. 10.

Capital No Place For Hubby Hunters

Better Chance in Own Back Yard, Says Expert.

WASHINGTON. — Don't come to Washington, girls, if you want to get married.

Ray H. Everett, executive secretary of the district's Social Hygiene society, says you stand a better chance of finding those dreamed-of orange blossoms in your own backyard.

If you must leave home go where the men are—some industrial center such as Atlanta, Flint, Erie or Bridgeport, Conn., Everett advises.

"Washington may be the glamorous capital of the world, but it's slim matrimonial pickings for the girl from the four corners," he says.

He estimates there are about four marriageable women here for every marriageable man, making the nation's capital just about the poorest matrimonial mart in the country.

But because Miss Hopefuls persist in coming to Washington, Everett is continuously giving advice and lectures on how to land a man here.

Most of his clients are government girls. Some are sent to him by government agencies.

Others attend his lectures in government dormitory buildings, such as the vast Arlington Farms, or in other meeting halls.

The lantern-jawed Everett talks to them in a language as modern as jive. He draws on his experience as a former sociology professor at George Washington university and as a happily married husband who hasn't forgotten a wedding anniversary in 23 years.

He tells them that secretaries have the best chances of marrying. Next come the women in theatrical work, with stenographers third.

Good grooming goes farther and lasts longer than good looks, he advises. He stresses the importance of developing many interests.

Here, he explains, is a way to meet men: Go in for athletic games, take part in amateur theatricals, become a good dancer and vacation where there are some men to spare.

3 Days Late, Light Keeper Never Missed

CHARLEVOIX, MICH.—A light-house keeper whose absence was unnoticed for three days while he drifted helplessly in a crippled motor launch on Lake Michigan was rescued little the worse for wear.

Daniel A. Buckus returned to his duties as light tender at Ile Aux Galets after he was picked up off the southeast tip of Beaver island, 15 miles from here, by coastguardsmen.

Other crewmen at Ile Aux Galets did not become alarmed at Buckus' failure to return from shore leave, supposing he had stayed on the mainland because of a light fog.

Buckus, however, had set out and became stranded just outside of steamer lanes when his motor failed.

Money Showers Oregon Town; Starts Buying

GARIBALDI, ORE.—Manna from heaven, or in 20th century terms, "clover from the clouds," was causing a minor buying spree in this little Oregon coast town recently. Dollar bills fluttered from the sky here, shortly after an airplane had flown over the tiny fishing community.

The dollar bills sprinkled down over fishing boats, homes and business houses. Tom Hess, commercial fisherman, had $16 by the time the flurry ended. Some of the fortune sank beneath the waters of Garibaldi bay, but eager harvesters gained a little pocket money before the "windfall" disappeared.

No flying banks were reported operating in Oregon, but the fishing folk here would just as soon their benefactor flew over again.

1,800 Pets of All Kinds Are Buried in 'Cemetery'

MIAMITOWN, OHIO.—More than 1,800 pets of all kinds are buried in the Mount Hope Pet cemetery three miles northwest of Miami-town, near Cincinnati.

The cemetery was opened 12 years ago by Dr. George R. Agin, a veterinarian, and his wife, Alice.

More and more animal lovers are finding a special solace in placing their pets in a permanent resting place in this unique cemetery.

The greater number of the more than 1,800 pets buried in the seven and one-half acres devoted to the burial ground are dogs, with cats second. But other pets buried there include one pony, one parrot, and numerous canaries.

Tourist Wants to Know When Geysers Will Erupt

CODY, WYO.—Secretary Marlin Kurtz of the Cody Club reports happily that the tourists' questions about nearby Yellowstone National park are returning to prewar norms. An Arizona woman wrote recently asking for a schedule on geyser eruptions and Kurtz replied that, except for "Old Faithful," it was strictly a case of "pay your money and take your chances."

San Antonio WAA Office Wary of Stork

Officials of the San Antonio War Assets Regional Office, responsible for the disposal of thousands of war surplus items have ever been skeptical of the shop worn bromide "it can't happen here."

They were making a minute search of the local inventories today just as a precaution to offset any possibility of entertaining a package of grief experienced by the San Francisco regional office. Putting it bluntly, San Francisco had "stork trouble" with Etta, Tilly and Lolita.

Etta, Tilly and Lolita were three of the 48 registered pure-bred Guernsey and Holstein cows which the Navy asked WAA to sell four months ago when it closed down the Mare Island disciplinary barracks and the model prison dairy operated there.

Perhaps Abe, Butch and Flash should also be mentioned. They are three of the dozen bulls that were in the prize herd.

It was a simple bit of paper-work for the commander of Mare Island to transfer the dairy's milking machines, bottles, pails and feed to WAA. But when it came to Etta, Tilly and Lolita, the Navy was stumped by the stork. Each time the Navy tried to declare an exact inventory of the herd to WAA, as required by regulations, it found the herd increased by one, two and sometimes three calves.

So while WAA looked for a buyer, the Navy maintained a running inventory of the herd. Other federal agencies did not want the cattle, so WAA turned to the State of California which held the next highest priority at the same time. A. $17,043.04 job-lot sale was arranged and the state moved the herd out quickly, before Navy records were again cluttered by what three other cows, Dora, Florina and Irene were expecting.

Coffee Stamps Bring Sugar, OPA Complains

Retailers handling sugar in the San Antonio OPA district of 67 Texas counties are being advised by Cal C. Straughan, district sugar rationing officer, to be on the lookout for Coffee Stamp No. 51, which is being offered in certain instances for sugar instead of the currently valid stamp, which is — Spare Stamp No. 51.

Straughan revealed today that he has received reports from sugar wholesalers, who have found a number of the coffee stamps instead of Spare Stamp 51, in the ration currency recently turned in by retailers.

"It is possible that consumers are confused about the two stamps," Straughan said.

However, he added, sugar distributors and retailers are checking closely, and anyone deliberately offering the wrong stamp will be refused sugar unless the valid stamp, Spare Stamp No. 51, is used.

Livestock Prices Below Ceiling

Over-riding ceilings on live cattle, and calves were announced today by J. D. Vollmer, price specialist of the San Antonio district Office of Price Administration.

The ceiling in San Antonio and El Paso (terminal market price) is $19.60 per hundredweight. Vollmer said, and, in all other counties of the OPA district, the over-riding ceiling on livestock is $19.50.

Ceilings on the price that may be paid for live cattle are again effective, following action of the Decontrol Board in placing meat at all levels of sale back under price control. Meat at retail has been re-controlled since September 9.

Hondo Bears Defeat Fast Nine From Old Mexico

Team Will Stage
Three Day Fiesta
This Week End

Owls Open Season
Tonight With
Texas Silents

George Pruneda, pitching airtight baseball, hurled the Hondo Bears to a 2 to 1 victory over the Ferrocarrileros Furza nine from Piedras Negras, Coah., Mexico, at the local diamond last Sunday. Pruneda held the visiting team, reputed to be one of the strongest teams in Northern Mexico, to three hits and fanned ten of the batsmen facing him.

Both the Hondo boys and the Mexican nine played fast baseball, but Pruneda's hurling had the visitors baffled. The Bears gathered six hits which netted them the two runs to take the game.

Three Day Baseball Fiesta

The Bears will stage a three day baseball fiesta commencing next Saturday at the local diamond when they tackle the Somerset Tigers. On Sunday they meet the strong Devine nine, captained by Joe Vance, former National League pitcher who worked with the New York Giants. The Devine team stands two up on the Bears to date, but the local boys are out to get even in Sunday's game. Monday afternoon the Bears will meet the nine from San Antonio for the final fiesta game.

The opposing lines during the fiesta are rated top notch in their sections. On Sunday, Sept. 23, the Bears will meet one of the best semi-pro nines from below the Rio Grande, the Villa Acunas Aliosis.

Bears Record Good

The Bears, in the last eight games played, have won seven and tied one. During the entire season they have won eighteen and lost eight. Star hurler of the team, George Pruneda, has averaged from 6 to 12 strikeouts per game.

All players are residents of Hondo, and all are World War II veterans and members of American Legion post 524. The team is under the management of Rudy Barrientes and is coached by Joe Dominguez, former star Texas League player.

Tom Bridges proved he is one of the best football coaches in the business today when interviewed by the Anvil Herald. He was just as full of woe as Leahy of Notre Dame or Mills of Illinois who, like Bridges, have eleven piles of dynamite on their hands and a bit in reserve.

With five men back from last year's starting lineup, including two of the best high school backs in high school football in Texas, Bridges said, "Well, we'd rather play them than concede it to them." (In a very dismal tone of voice.)

The Silents from Austin, squaring off against the Owls tonight at 8 p. m. in Barry Field, will cause plenty of trouble. With an average weight of 162 pounds, they will have a dozen pounds edge, man for man, on the Owls. They will be, on the whole, older and more experienced. According to reports, the team is practically intact from last season when they lost to Uvalde by only one touchdown.

But the Owls are a long way from forgetting that they are the regional champions. They are scrappy and know how to dish up a goodly portion of Grade A football when the occasion demands. In addition, there are a number of good boys fighting for positions on the starting lineup which helps the team considerably.

The test, according to Bridges, will be in the middle of the line and in the line backing on defense. "They are looking pretty good," he said "but of course they're not polished like they will be later on." He said he is "superstitious" about predicting scores, but admits that the team is "looking pretty good."

Some anxiety has been felt over Paul Mueller, who occupies one of the end positions. Paul sprained his wrist in practice about a week ago and has not been able to play since. However, Bridges has kept him going with leg work and he will probably be ready to start tonight.

800 Methodists To Convene in Hondo

Mummes Return From Fort Worth Chick Convention

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Mumme spent four days at Fort Worth, Aug. 26 to 29, attending the Texas Baby Chick Association convention and hatchery show.

Accompanied by their two children, Clarence 11 and Andra 8, they witnessed demonstrations and heard lectures on feeding and nutrition plus "a lot of other worthwhile things."

Mumme, owner of the hatchery in Hondo, held his first hatching of the season this week. The 4,000 chicks expected to hatch this week is "just a starter," he said, with production scheduled to go up to 25,000 weekly before long.

The incubator hatched chicks are kept at a temperature of 99 degrees and are ready for shipment about one day after they leave the shells.

sioner of Agriculture of Texas. Completely out of harmony with New Deal policies from the beginning, especially those dealing with the South's great staple crop, cotton, and unable to secure any respectful consideration from the authorities at Washington for his substitute plan, he is said to have voted the Republican national ticket in the last three Presidential elections while himself the Democratic nominee for a state office. Every legal artifice possible to keep him off the ticket has been exhausted to no avail. He is within his legal rights. Political skuldugery to accomplish the same end has been stopped only by the limits of fear for their own safety on the part of his political enemies. When a man of the same name save a different first initial announced against him, it was feared by his friends and hoped by his opponents that the confusion of names would lead to his defeat. How near it came to working is evidenced by the fact that two other competent men were eliminated in the first primary and the two McDonalds went into the runoff. Here the confusion seemed to work in about the same proportion as between the two and J. E. McDonald is nominated for his ninth term, showing that in one instance at least the voters of Texas honor conscientious adherence to principle above party subservency. There is still hope for the country so long as an independent electorate shows its courage.

From his large store of historical relics and data pertaining to the history of Medina County, gathered by Judge H. E. Haass during his some 40 years of an active life in the county, he showed us this week a well preserved copy of Volume 1, No. 1 of The Hondo News. The issue of the paper is dated Thursday, Feb. 15, 1900, is a six column folio with the outside ready print. Only the two inside pages are home print and they are set in ten point type and some of that double-leaded. The paper was established and edited by Edward B. Patrick. Both he and his wife were talented musicians. Editor Patrick moved his plant to Hondo from Louise, Wharton County, and says in this issue, "Our move to Hondo was purely for the benefit to be gained in health in this locality". He must have regained that rapidly for after a few months he moved back to Wharton County and for a number of years published the El Campo News. That was 46 years ago and few remain who remember this journalistic venture.

Texas Station Shows Soil Improvement Aids Crop Yield

Increase in production of 100 pounds per acre is the improvement recorded by the Texas A. & M. experiment station by planting fertilized and inoculated hairy vetch.

The experiment station, pointing out that it pays to plant fertilized and inoculated legumes for soil improvement, showed that the increase in yield following vetch that was not fertilized or inoculated was only five pounds of lint per acre.

Fertilization and inoculation brought the yield up an average of 59 pounds of lint per acre, with certain fields improving by 100 pounds.

Another demonstration station in which cotton followed Hubam clover showed a five year average yield of 315 pounds of lint cotton per acre. The total was only 165 pounds more than cotton grown without the clover. Corn yield, however, was increased 10 bushels an acre by the clover.

T-SGT. REIBER BACK; AWAITS DISCHARGE

T. Sgt. (Sonnie) Reiber, son of E. S. Reiber, arrived in Hondo this week from Japan after an extended period of overseas duty which included combat service in the Philippines at the time General Yamashita surrendered to the Americans.

Change in the method of discharging is keeping Lloyd in reserve in the army for another month, at which time he will receive his terminal leave pay under the new bill authorizing such pay for enlisted men.

Scientists maintain that the right side of a person's body is slightly heavier than the left side.

Three Congregations Will Observe 'Onderdonk Day'

Over 800 Medina county Methodists are expected to attend the combined services Sunday at 10:50 a. m. in the First Methodist church at Hondo. Rev. Eleazar Guerra, Bishop of Mexico, will speak.

This is the first service of this kind, including three active congregations, to be held here. Ministers and churches represented will be Rev. W. B. Wheeler, pastor, New Fountain; Rev. Ervin M. Jordan, pastor, Yancey; and Rev. H. Ellis Thomas of Hondo who is making all arrangements.

The Southwest Texas annual conference of the Methodist church has designated this Sunday, Sept. 15, as the Dr. Frank Onderdonk Memorial day, and all churches will take a special offering for a new Methodist church in Tampico, Mexico, honoring Dr. Onderdonk for his many years labor among the Mexican people prior to his death in 1936.

Methodist work in Mexico is just beginning to assume its full stature as Bishop Guerra. A product of mission work, he is a graduate of Southern Methodist University and has been honored throughout the entire Methodist church.

In a statement to the Anvil Herald, the Rev. Mr. Thomas said that "Hondo Methodism is keeping faith with the years of service to Medina county, evidenced by the many outstanding and constructive programs of this year."

He continued "The services Sun-

There will be several in the Bishop's party making the trip from LATE CHANGE IN PROGRAM

According to a late report from Rev. H. Ellis Thomas, the scheduled speaker, Rev. Eleazar Guerra will be unable to be present on Sunday. In his place will be Dr. Eduardo Guerra of Mexico City.

DATES FOR U. OF T. REGISTRATION SET

Registration dates for the University of Texas at Austin have been set for Sept. 16-21, according to an announcement received by the Anvil Herald. Attendance this fall is expected to approximate 15,000 students.

Rush Week, the period during which students select their fraternities and sororities, is set for Sept. 13-17, and engineering students must take pre-entrance examinations on Monday, Sept. 16.

Former students at the University of Texas will register alphabetically by surname during the first two days, and new students will register on the third day, Sept. 18. Other registration dates are for late arrivals. All former students must have photostatic copies of their previous records, and new students must have their credits, in the office of the registrar before registration.

FLUSH KIDNEY URINE

Benefit wonderfully from famous doctor's discovery that relieves backache, run-down feeling due to excess acidity in the urine

People everywhere are finding amazing relief from painful symptoms of bladder irritation caused by excess acidity in the urine. DR. KILMER'S SWAMP ROOT acts fast on the kidneys to ease discomfort by promoting the flow of urine. This pure herbal medicine is especially welcome where bladder irritation due to excess acidity is a problem for "getting up at night." A carefully blended combination of 16 herbs, roots, vegetables, balsam; Dr. Kilmer's contains nothing harsh, is absolutely non-habit forming. Just good insistent, non-habit forming. Just good insistent, non-habit forming. Just good insistent, non-habit forming.

THE somewhat dusty files show that a Boston club has never lost a world series contest, with six victories out of six starts — five for the Red Sox and one for the Braves.

This world series mop up began 43 years ago. It began when the Boston A. L. entry of 1903 came from behind to whip the able Pirates with such stars aboard as Hans Wagner, Tommy Leach, Fred Clarke, Sam Leever, Deacon Phillippe, Jimmy Sebring and a few others. Apparently beaten, the Bostonian delegation rallied to ride home on the stout right arm and the stouter heart of Big Bill Dineen. That was victory No. 1, although the world series of 1903 was on the unofficial side.

Nine years later the Red Sox found John McGraw and his Giants in the road. This series went to eight games, where in the final spasm Giant support blew wide open as Christy Mathewson lost a contest he should have won in a common canter.

Earlier in this meeting, around the fifth inning, Harry Hooper saved the day for Boston with the most spectacular of all world series catches when he pulled down Larry Doyle's almost sure home run over the right field fence. The ball already had passed over the fence when Hooper made the miracle catch, crashing into the crowd. He must have used a net.

Speaker Clinches Flag

After that Fred Snodgrass dropped Clyde Engle's easy fly to center that popped into his glove—and then popped out again, Engle reaching second. That was a bit discouraging. But a moment later on, Matty fed Tris Speaker a slow floater and Tris lifted the ball on a high foul pop-up near first base that Fred Merkle lost. Chief Myers made a futile chase as Merkle was vainly looking in various directions for the ball. The high pop-up dropped between these two only 10 feet from first base. Then Speaker broke it up with a single, scoring Engle.

Two years later the Braves crashed into the big show by beating the Athletics four straight. Rudolph, Tyler and James did it. The famous Athletics curled up like a feather attached to a burning match. In these three world series Boston was three up.

In 1915 the Red Sox broke back into the great white spotlight again. They lost to Alexander, one of the great pitchers of all time, and then won the next four games.

In 1916 they won the pennant again and took on the Dodgers. The main feature here was Babe Ruth's extra inning victory over Sherrod Smith. The Babe was then a great left-hander in the box.

Ruth's Last Hurling

In 1918, the Red Sox returned to the post-season carnival for the fifth time. That year they whipped the Cubs where Babe Ruth, dating back to 1916, turned in 29 scoreless innings. Babe was the master of that party, his final as a pitcher before he turned to home-run hitting at Ed Barrows' suggestion. Babe usually carried the world series along with him, using his pitching or batting eye for this worthy purpose. It has now been a matter of 28 years since Boston saw its last world series.

In the last 10 years, Tom Yawkey has had enough money to win three championships, but this happened in the era or epoch where the Yankees had too much stuff.

It is only natural that Boston supporters are looking for another world series mop-up, making it seven in a row. This time they have the best team in the home of the bean and the cod ever has sent into action. It is an even better team than the 1912 outfit that knew Speaker, Lewis and Hooper for the finest defensive outfield in baseball history. Plus Smoky Joe Wood in the box. Plus Bill Carrigan back of the bat.

The 1946 Red Sox carry baseball's two essentials — hitting and pitching. But the Red Sox road record proves that Joe Cronin's young men are far from being invincible. They are the best team in baseball, anyway, although their man-against-man selection doesn't leave any wide margin over the Dodgers or Cardinals, who also can play their share of baseball.

Oklahoma Sets Sesquicentennial Noting First White Settlement Historical Pageant Planned As Highlight of State Fair

By WNU Features.

MUSKOGEE, OKLA.—To the astronomer and the geologist 150 years is the merest fragment of time. Even the student of recorded history stands in no awe of such a period. But to the more finite-minded people of Oklahoma it represents a considerable span of time. In fact, it measures the period that has elapsed since the first white settlement in their state. That is why they're going all out this year to celebrate the 150th anniversary of that event.

In accordance with a joint resolution of the state senate and house of representatives passed in 1939, Oklahoma will celebrate the 150th anniversary of the day when Maj. Jean Pierre Chouteau, a French fur trader, led a peaceful invasion into the uncharted Southwest and set up a trading post at the site of the present-day city of Salina in Mayes county of north-eastern Oklahoma.

In Muskogee, some 50 miles south of the site of Chouteau's settlement, plans are being pushed for a celebration to carry out the legislative resolution.

Seeks Trading Post.

In the early spring of 1796, Chouteau left St. Louis, where he was a member of an influential family of traders and merchants, to find a suitable location for a new trading post among the Indians of the Southwest.

Traveling southward along the Grand river, the Frenchman found the site he had dreamed of—a place where an abundant supply of game, mostly deer and wild turkeys, abounded among thick timber which would provide a ready source of building material. By what Chouteau must have regarded as providential good luck, the site also stood near an inexhaustible supply of salt, a vital necessity to his men and animals. To crown the good features of the location, the river itself would furnish transportation facilities.

The pioneer lost no time in constructing a large log trading post at what is now Salina.

Post Abandoned.

Economic reverses, however, disappointed the French explorer, who discovered that the territory was not the permanent home of any Indian tribe and that prospects of supporting a trading post, however propitious the location in other respects, were insufficient to justify making the venture a permanent settlement in the area.

Chouteau returned to St. Louis and for six years the little trading post stood silent and abandoned in the wild loneliness of a primitive country. But in 1802 events transpired that gave new life to the settlement. Through the traders' efforts the Osage Indians of the Missouri valley removed their homes to eastern Oklahoma.

It was a double victory for the Frenchman. He had sought revenge on the Spanish government which had taken his trading monopoly and given it to one of its subjects. By the migration of the Indian from the Spaniard's trade territory, his business was virtually ruined.

In addition, it created a market for Chouteau's abandoned trading post to which he returned to start the 150-year parade of progress which has made a great, modern state from a wilderness.

A celebration to be held in connection with the annual Free State fair at Muskogee, scheduled for the week of September 29 through October 6, will bear Gov. Robert S. Kerr's stamp as the "official" Oklahoma commemoration of her sesquicentennial.

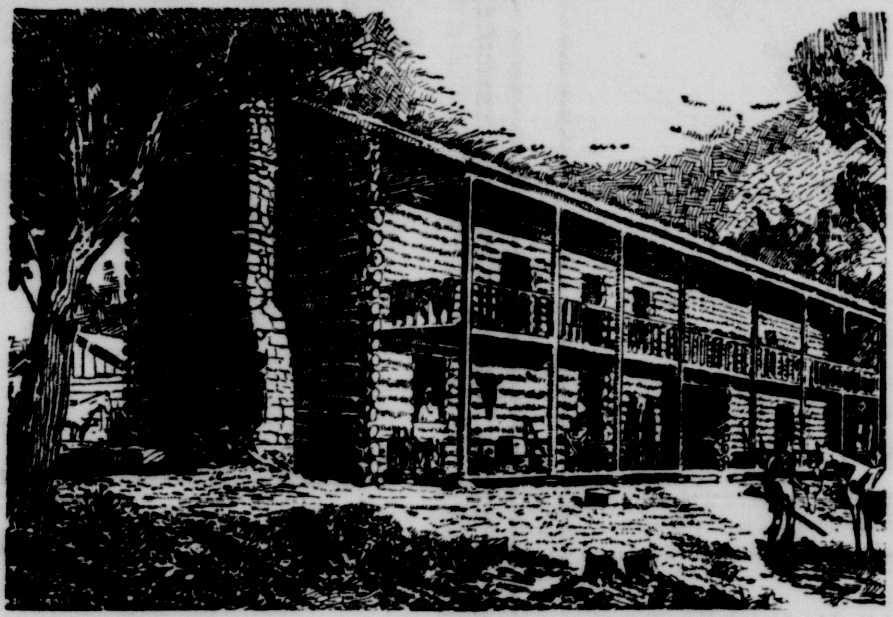

Pioneers to Participate.

During three days of the fair, a colorful pageant will be presented. Several hundred eastern Oklahomans, many of them direct descendants of early-day pioneers, will appear in the pageant, which will portray the arrival of Chouteau in the state and the story of the little trading post.

C. E. Chouteau, an official of the Indian agency at Muskogee, will fill the role of his illustrious ancestor. The fair, a gala panorama of mid-way gaiety and agricultural and educational exhibits, yearly draws thousands of visitors from eastern Oklahoma and adjacent Arkansas.

In addition to the sesquicentennial pageant, fair visitors will be able to view a comprehensive display of the state's agricultural and industrial outputs. The fertile farms which dot Oklahoma will contribute their animal and vegetable produce to the fair and the modern educational institutions of the section will present exhibits.

Fairgoers may see the original site of Chouteau's landing by a short drive from Muskogee and may visit other interesting historical spots near this city, the original capital of the Five Civilized tribes.

TRAVELERS ARE 'JOLTED'

Vacation Costs Soar to New All-time Peak

War-weary Americans, reveling in the lifting of travel restrictions, gasoline rationing and steady wartime duties, are hitting the highways and byways by the millions this summer and fall bound for their first vacation jaunt in long years.

Not only on the highways are they receiving a jolt, however, for vacation costs, which climbed throughout the war years, now have soared to a new all-time high.

Thousands are being jolted by boosts in the rates of resort hotels, inns and cottages. A few resort places haven't raised the ante since last year, but virtually all charge substantially more than they did in prewar and early war years.

Surveys of hotel directories show that the increase in rates range generally from 15 per cent to more than 100 per cent since prewar days. Many inns which were abandoned before the war because of guest shortages have reopened and are doing a capacity business at rates as high as $50 a day for two persons.

Travel experts say an increase amounting to more than 50 per cent is quite typical in most sections.

A few old inns, apparently desirous of maintaining the goodwill of patrons, have made surprisingly small increases. At the other extreme, say officials of travel organi-

War Treks Fail To Lead Farm Youths to City

Life in the armed forces, which introduced thousands of farm youths to glittering cities and far-away lands, did not dim their love for farm life. More than a million veterans of World War II have returned to farm work throughout the nation, it is revealed in a bureau of agricultural economics report.

Veterans on farms by July 1 totaled 1,045,000, according to the bureau report, the number including 713,000 farm operators or members of farm operators' families, and 332,000 hired workers.

Veterans comprised 9 per cent of all persons employed on the nation's farms.

The number of veterans on farms was slightly more than three-fourths the number of warm workers who enlisted or were inducted up to July 1, 1945.

In the Northeast and on the Pacific coast, the number of veterans returning to farms was larger than the number who entered the armed services. In other sections they were from 70 to 80 per cent.

A total of 11 million was engaged in farm work.

Program To Stress Value of Citizenship To New Prospects

WASHINGTON.—Plans for a nationwide program to emphasize the "worth and meaning of American citizenship" to prospective citizens were announced by the justice department.

The department said the program "will be a continuous effort to stress the ideals of this country and the significance of American citizenship from the time of entry of a potential citizen to the moment when citizenship is granted him by the court, and even beyond that."

A national advisory committee on citizenship is to be named by Atty. Gen. Tom Clark to assist with the program.

The program will include:

1. Publication of a pamphlet containing significant facts about the United States to be given to prospective citizens and visitors to this country.
2. Preparation of a booklet to be given to each new citizen to emphasize his responsibilities to this country.
3. Enlisting the aid of the bench and bar, civil and educational authorities and patriotic organizations in the effort to stress the significance of citizenship.

Ain't It So?

One cannot sustain a warm friendship on hot air. That's a cold fact.

Many a sheep goes out woolly and comes home shorn. A confirmed bachelor is one who looks before he leaps and then stays where he is.

One can look insignificant if he tries hard enough. Thousands of men are successful at it.

The best weapon that dignity has is silence.

STAGE SCREEN RADIO
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

By VIRGINIA VALE

BACK when Dinah Shore was getting started in radio she was on Station WNEW in New York, and the men who worked with her then still pay tribute to her; "She was such a perfectly swell kid," they say, "that we all wanted to do everything we could to help her along." That was when she first came up from Nashville, Tenn., after graduating from Vanderbilt and doing some radio work. Dinah's still a swell kid; she doesn't brush off autograph seekers no matter how badly she's rushed for time, or how tired she is. She's been doing a stint at New York's Paramount theater, and her new radio program, with Peter Lind Hayes, starts September 18 over CBS from Hollywood.

Motion picture actors usually call their own homes when the script requires that they dial a number; some dial a favorite restaurant or club. Bing Crosby dials a golf club where he and Bob Hope frequently play. But Radio Theater Producer Keighley has a long list of non-existent numbers for use on the air; some people, when a radio actor calls a number, just have to rush to the phone and call it. Addresses are just as bad; Keighley has a list of those, too, in New York, London, Paris, and other big cities. But—they're all vacant lots!

"A Miracle Can Happen" is going to have an all-star cast that's really all-star. Producers Benedict Bogeaus and Burgess Meredith, who are making it for United Artists, recently added Fred MacMurray to a list including Henry Fonda, James Stewart, Charles Laughton and Paulette Goddard; by the time you read this they'll have announced some other feminine stars.

Cathy O'Donnell is worried because she can't cry for the movie cameras—has to be helped out with glycerine tears. Working with Gladys George and seven-year-old Marlene Ames in "The Best Years of Our Lives," she watched while they easily burst into tears, and could have wept herself with discouragement. Her only consolation was the fact that Myrna Loy and Teresa Wright, also starring in the film and top-notch actresses both, had to rely on glycerine too.

Betsy Blair, Gene Kelly's wife, plays the ingenue lead in the Ross and Russell-Melvyn Douglas "Empty Heart," her first picture. She was playing on Broadway Saroyan's play, "The Beautiful People," when she and Gene were married. At that time Gene was 1. When he joined the navy, she retired to take care of their daughter, Kerry, who's three now, old enough to let Betsy resume her career.

J. Arthur Rank's $6,000,000 "Caesar and Cleopatra" was being held over in some 25 key cities before it hit New York, rolling up top grosses everywhere. United Artists' home office says the two illuminated signs erected in Times Square to announce it are the largest ever used to advertise a Broadway screen production—one is 160 by 24 feet.

Mary Small says the trend in popular music is definitely toward the sweeter side, and she should know, as she shares top-singing honors with Harry Babbitt on the "By Popular Demand" show, Thursday nights on Mutual, which plays the tunes most requested of band-leaders and singers in cafes and ballrooms; the selections are wired in and the most popular ones land on the program.

ODDS AND ENDS—At the Pasadena preview of "Suddenly It's Spring" males in the audience whistled so loud at Paulette Goddard, shown wearing a black negligee, that nobody could hear the actors in the picture doing the same thing. Charles Trowbridge got the role of Katharine Hepburn's father in "Sea of Grass." Lowell Thomas keeps CBS production men on the edge of their seats; in 16 years he's never been late to a broadcast, but he rarely arrives with more than 30 seconds to spare. Peter Lawford sings for the first time on the screen in "It Happened in Brooklyn," wobbles "Whose Baby Are You?" with Frank Sinatra.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Add Finishing Touches to Canning Now!
(See Recipes Below)

Late Canning

Well, the summer's about over, with late fruits peeping through the leaves in the orchard, and the last of the season's vegetables pushing up through the earth. I am assuming you have most of your canning done, but there are some things that cannot be canned until late. That time will soon arrive, so be prepared!

Sometimes it is the things canned last that are the sweetest and best turned out. That may be because we're in practice, but perhaps, too, it's because things like pears and grapes are in season, and the family likes end-of-the garden pickles best of all.

Look over what you've canned during the summer before winding up with a final session of canning and try to balance the canning cupboard and fill in spaces with the foods you need. Our recipes today are of a variety to help you do just that.

Pear Butter.

Wash pears, but do not peel. Slice and add a small amount of water to start cooking. Cook until soft, then press through a colander. To each cup of pulp, add ½ cup sugar, and a few spices, if desired. Cook to a paste, stirring frequently to prevent burning. Pour into sterile jars and seal at once.

You know fruit butters will spread a lot of slices of bread this winter and put a damper on that rifting of the cookie jar. Here's how it's done with apples:

Spiced Apple Butter.

4 gallons prepared apples
1 gallon sweet cider
4 pints sugar
1 teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Pare, core and slice apples. Boil cider until reduced by one-half. Add apples to cider while boiling and cook slowly until the fruit is soft. Press through a sieve and then return to fire and continue cooking, stirring frequently to prevent burning. When the fruit begins to thicken, add sugar and spices. Cook until smooth and thick. Pour into sterile jars and seal while hot.

End-of-the-Garden Pickles.
1 cup sliced cucumbers
1 cup chopped sweet peppers
1 cup chopped cabbage
1 cup sliced onions
1 cup chopped green tomatoes
1 cup chopped carrots
1 cup green beans, cut into 1-inch pieces

2 tablespoons mustard seed
1 tablespoon celery seed
1 cup chopped celery
2 cups vinegar
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons turmeric

LYNN SAYS:

Making Good Jelly: To extract the juice from fruits and berries so that it is clear, use several thicknesses of cheesecloth or some flannel. A wire mesh strainer may be used to hold the cloth. The bag should never be squeezed or the jelly will be cloudy.

The best jellies are made in small batches so that cooking time can remain short.

For fruits rich in pectin (jelling quality), use ¾ to 1 cup of sugar for each cup of juice.

The pectin content of fruits is highest when they are just barely ripe. A combination of under-ripe and over-ripe fruit will make a satisfactory combination for flavor and pectin requirements.

LYNN CHAMBER'S MENUS

Stuffed Pork Shoulder
Slivered Carrots and Onions
Green Beans
Mashed Potatoes Gravy
Garden Salad
Biscuits with Honey
Plum Cobbler Beverage

Soak cucumbers, peppers, cabbage, onions and tomatoes in salt water (½ cup salt to 2 quarts water) overnight. Drain. Cook the carrots and string beans in boiling water until tender. Drain well. Mix soaked and cooked vegetables with remaining ingredients and boil for 10 minutes. Pack into sterile jars and seal.

Two preserved fruits that are both piquant and satisfying are Grape Gumbo and Peach and Apple Conserve. Here are preserves that will add that magic touch to the meat course during winter:

Grape Gumbo.

4 pounds seeded grapes
1 orange, thinly sliced
¾ pound seeded raisins
4 cups sugar

Cook all of the ingredients until the mixture is of the consistency of marmalade. Pour into sterilized jars and seal at once.

Conserve needs stirring and watching so that it does not stick. Do not cook too long or these delicate fruits will lose their color.

Peach and Cantaloupe Conserve.

1 pint diced peaches
1 pint diced cantaloupe
2 lemons, juice and grated rind
3 cups sugar
½ cup walnuts, blanched and chopped

Combine ingredients with the exception of nutmeats. Cook until mixture is thick and clear. Add nutmeats and pour into sterile jars. Seal while hot.

Both plums and apples are late-in-the-season fruits, yet they make delicious jelly if you still have enough of your sugar ration left.

Crab Apple Jelly.

Select sound crab apples. Wash and remove blossoms. Cut into quarters without peeling. Barely cover with water and boil until fruit is tender. Strain the juice through a jelly bag. Measure and bring juice to a boil. Add ¾ cup of sugar to each cup of juice and boil rapidly to jelly stage. Pour into sterilized jelly glasses and seal immediately.

Plum Jelly.

Wash plums and cover with cold water. Boil until plums are quite soft. Press juice through jelly bag, strain and measure. Bring juice to a boil and add one cup of sugar for each cup of juice. Boil rapidly to jelly stage, then pour into sterile glasses and seal at once.

Plum and Orange Jelly.

5 pounds plums, cut up
6 oranges
1 lemon
sugar

Wash plums, cover with cold water and bring to a boil. Add oranges and lemon and cook until plums are soft. Drain in jelly bag. Boil extracted juice 15 minutes and to every 4 cups of juice, add 3 cups sugar. Boil rapidly to jelly stage. Pour into sterile glasses and seal.

When you rout out all the jars and caps that seem likely prospects for your home canning, or jars and caps to share with neighbors, you can set aside at once some kinds that won't do. Into the discard group go jars and caps that have any crack, nick, dent, or any other defect that would keep a jar from sealing airtight. And set aside, too, odd shaped and very small jars. They can be used for preserves or other purposes where a paraffin seal is adequate.

The Wild Animal Crisis

Wild animals are now on the "we can't get the stuff" list. Inflation has struck the jungles. Reconversion snafu rages on the veldt. The waterhole needs ceiling prices.

The highest prices in history are being quoted to zoos seeking beasts of the fields. You may think you are being soaked for cowmeat, but suppose you wanted elephant-steak!

African lions are bringing $10 a snarl. Bengal tigers are being sold by the stripe, giraffes are higher than ever and camels are quoted at $2,500 for single humped ones. A double-humper brings twice as much and no deliveries until 1947!!

A seal with no ear for music is up 80 per cent and one that can only toot three notes of "My Country 'Tis of Thee" sells higher than used to be asked for a seal that knew Irving Berlin's repertoire.

"Why is this?" we asked John Kieran, the well-known animal, fish, bird and bug man.

"Production line troubles," said Kieran—presto, like that!—"Africa hasn't reconverted yet at all. It's the old story of supply and demand."

"What, no OPA in the bush or at the waterhole?" we asked.

"They sent some OPA fellows into the lion country to study the situation, but nothing further was heard from them," he replied.

"A lion can resent that sort of thing," we suggested.

"You just try to put a ceiling on one," said the Sage of the Airwaves. "Once when I was on a safari I encountered..."

"But what about elephants?" we interrupted.

"What about 'em?" he repeated.

"Why should it be hard to get a good elephant now that the controls are off?"

"An elephant with his controls off is harder to get than any other kind," he said. "In 1927 I was bicycling through India when I encountered—"

"What will happen to American economy if it can't get elephants?" we put in.

"Oh, the GOP can't get back anyhow, I fear," he replied. "I remember one night encountering..."

"Have you been able to get any wildcats lately?" we asked.

"No, but a friend of mine got one."

"How?"

"He says it was in a hamburger."

"What do you hear about black panthers?" we asked.

"You can get 'em, but not in colors. Black is as hard to find as white."

"What do you think about the wild animal market for the next few months?" we inquired.

"I dunno. There may be a big animal backlog, but on the other hand it may all be due to a slow up on the production line."

"Do you suspect anybody is holding back wild animals?"

"Not the really wild ones."

"Is there anything in the story a scientist is making a rhinoceros out of the soybean?"

"I consider that as unlikely as the plastic hippopotamus."

"Any chance to get a porcupine in the present situation?"

"Only with points."

Kieran was pretty depressed. He suggested sending some fact-finding board into the jungle. The deep jungle. By night. Blindfolded. And with no weapons. Good here!

We understand Byrnes and Molotov made a big error at Paris. They went into action without sending mine-finders ahead.

Channing Pollock is dead. One of the first of our assignments as a cub reporter back home was to go to the old New Haven house at College and Chapel street and interview Pollock. He was there for the opening of one of his early plays, "Such a Little Queen." Somebody had broken into his room at the hotel and taken a pair of his pants, including a roll of money, as we recall it. Pollock, the papers say, wrote a drama called "The Pit." If this was a dramatization of a Norris novel with Wilton Lackaye in the leading role, then we were in it. For with a mob of youngsters from around the Webster school area, including John Quigley, Herb Moeller and Mike Sarason, we managed to get in as "supers" in the big wheat market scene.

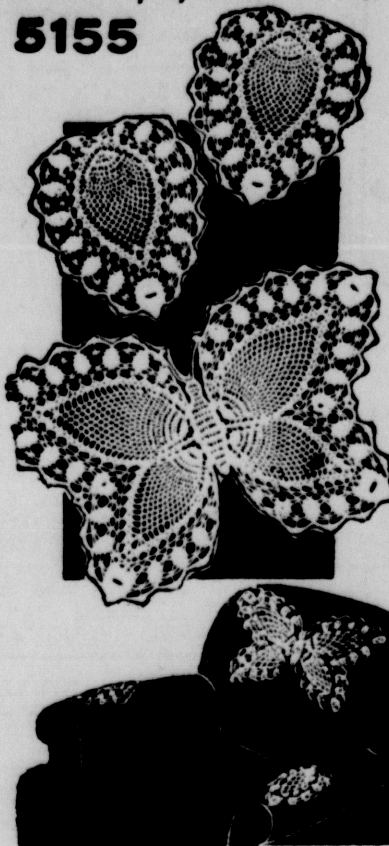

Maybe in the Weather
Dunder, a race horse named after one of Santa's coursers in "A Visit From Saint Nicholas," won a race the other day, surprising the experts who pointed out that it had never finished better than eighth, beating only Blitzen in the famous verses.

Fiorello LaGuardia is reported fairly sure to get a nomination for the United States senate. Good! We think every really funny man on radio should be encouraged.

Yield From Wheat to Be Increased by Britain

LONDON. -- The British government will extract 90 per cent of the wheat kernel in making flour instead of 85 per cent as at present, the food ministry announced. Minister Sir Ben Smith said this was a temporary measure in view of the world wheat crisis.

The output of cookies and crackers will be reduced 25 per cent. Smith said a further statement would be issued on changes in foods for livestock and poultry, necessitated by the change in the extraction rate.

2,500-Mile Audition Wins

Sheriff's Aide Opera Offer
SAN ANTONIO. -- A contract to sing with the New York Grand opera was sent to Rolf Danilo, youthful deputy sheriff of Bexar county. Danilo sent his robust tenor voice over 2,500 miles of telephone wires recently to the critical ears of the grand opera's producer, Alfredo Salmaggi, in a long-distance telephone audition, believed to be the first of its kind in grand opera history, and prompted Salmaggi to shout: "The finest voice I've heard in tenors. I'm sending a contract."

Filipinos Flee Guerillas, Says Report From Luzon

CABANATUAN, LUZON. -- Hundreds of refugees from outlying villages continued to crowd into this Philippine provincial capital following clashes between Filipino military police and Huk guerillas.

Insurance Branch Opens At Dallas

(Veterans! The Veterans Administration has activated an insurance service in its Branch Office No. 11, Dallas, Texas, for veterans residing in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi. This means better and quicker service for you. As a public service, The Anvil Herald is printing a series of six stories on your GI insurance. Following is the first in the series.)

Effective immediately all veterans living in Texas will now be given insurance service by the Dallas Veterans Branch Office, 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas.

Veterans who have let their GI insurance lapse can renew it with a little trouble. Up to Jan. 1, 1947, this can be done by paying two monthly premiums and submitting a signed statement that you are in good health as at the time of lapse.

VA's Dallas office can also issue new NSLI policies. Recent changes in the law authorizes any person who has had active service between October 8, 1940 and Sept. 2, 1945, to apply for new term insurance at any time upon application payment of premium and satisfactory evidence of good health.

(Next week: Payment of Premiums.) All veterans paying their insurance premiums should now send them to the above address. Pay by personal checks or money orders payable to the Treasurer of the United States. All remittances should be properly identified with the senders name and address, serial number and policy number and marked for the Collections Unit. Any veteran who has any difficulty in making out his remittances should contact A. A. Murrell, Service Officer in the Court house.

Average Hour Earnings
Reach Peak in March
NEW YORK. — Average hourly earnings in 25 industries in March reached a new peak of $1.14, or 50.9
percent above January, 1941, 59 percent above August, 1939, and 11 percent above the 1929 average, the National Industrial conference board said recently.
The board said average weekly
earnings, after a year's decline,
advanced in March to $46.44,
against $30.61 in January, 1941.
Average hours per week rose in March to 40.7, or 1.2 percent more than in January, 1941, but 15.7 percent shorter than in 1929. Pay rolls, with 1923 used by the board as a base, had dropped sharply for a year to 171.1 in February, but recovered in March to 189.9.

Highway Department
In Drive To End
Stolen Car Traffic

AUSTIN, Sept. 5 — Buyers of used cars were warned Thursday to secure from the seller acceptable
proof of ownership as the State Highway Department moved toward wiping out traffic in stolen and mortgaged motor vehicles in Texas.
"All County Tax Collectors have now received instructions to hold the line in requiring proof of ownership on all applications for vehicle titles," E. J. Amey, Director of Motor Vehicle Registration announced.
Applications for Texas titles are made through local Tax Collectors under the present law.
"Properly assigned certificate of title from any of the thirty States
having a title law similar to Texas is the best evidence of ownership.
The purchaser should insist upon receiving a release of any lien recorded on a Texas title or a title issued by any other state," Amey stated.

Outlining minimum acceptable ownership proof of vehicles brought into Texas from any of the seventeen non-title States, which includes Louisiana, Amey announced, "We will accept a 1945 license receipt from Louisiana or other non-title
State and the current receipt if both are in the name of the person applying for the Texas title."
"Bills of Sale showing all changes in ownership must supplement such 1945 license receipt, if applicant for a Texas title law was endorsed at a decent meeting of car dealers, enforcement officers, tax collectors and representatives of finance and insurance companies. The meeting had been called to determine if present requirements for title were meeting with the approval of all concerned."

"Numerous stolen and mortgaged cars bearing license plates from non-title States have been sold in Texas," Amey stated. "Purchasers of such

"Bad Lands" Into Good Meat

Vision and resourcefulness in the rebuilding of various kinds of abandoned and unproductive lands may pay dividends. The return of such "bad lands"
to profitable use is equally important to producers and to us at Swift & Company. Because "what helps agriculture helps all of us."
Here is a story of such vision. Here is an example of one man's initiative.

Like a farm torn up by a giant's plow, 600 acres of Illinois strip mine land stood bare. It was apparently worthless. That was in 1938.
Today those once-bare ridges are knee-deep in grass and clover. Each rugged acre makes more than enough grass for one steer. And it's getting better each year.

The year after the land was mined for coal,
a few volunteer sweet clover plants took root.
They flourished in the lime-rich soil. Byron Somers of Canton, Illinois, who farmed adjacent land, noticed them. He bought the "bad land" for $5 an acre. With a hand seeder, he walked the ridges and sowed sweet clover. The next year he had a good stand. This added

some nitrogen and humus to soil already rich in phosphorus and potash. Further seeding of a grass legume mixture is done each year by airplane. Brome grass has got a start, and now his pastures will be even more productive. In addition to grass, plenty of drinking water for the cattle is held in the little valleys.

Since being returned to usefulness, this land has averaged a net profit of $7 an acre each year. Similar Illinois land has recently sold for $25 an acre.

This is only one example. Every state has unproductive lands. Many other men have returned them to use—and profited. Huge areas still offer a challenge and an opportunity to American producers everywhere. Your opportunity, too, may be indicated by such a little thing as sweet clover growing on abandoned land.

More Beef from Less Feed

Nevada experiments indicate it is particularly advantageous to ranch owners if calves are born at such a time and grazed in such a way that they develop into feeders of satisfactory selling weights at the youngest possible age. The bulletin advocates ranchers planning their breeding season so that calves are born during the months of March, April, and May. Calves born during these months usually are of sufficient age and maturity to wean before winter sets in. During the winter months it is suggested they be fed all of the good "tame" grass and clover hay they will clean up without waste. They should be placed on good range in the summer and on irrigated pasture during the fall. Then they will be ready to market as feeders at 17 months of age. Under these conditions, they are held on the ranch only one winter and may be expected to weigh from 700 to 750 pounds.

When calves are born in other than the spring months, a large percentage of them must be fed on the ranch throughout two winters before they make satisfactory selling weights. Records show that cattle carried on the ranch for two winters have reached an average of 27 months of age at selling time and weigh approximately 875 pounds. Even though these cattle are practically a year older than seasonally bred cattle, they average only 150 pounds heavier than the younger animals. This is because calves born late in the year make only a poor start when winter sets in.

The most rapid as well as the most economical gains are made by younger animals. Gains gradually decline as cattle approach mature ages unless they are placed on extensive feeding rations.

Geography of Meat Production and Consumption

The United States by rail is approximately 3,000 miles from East to West. It is about 2,000 miles from North to South. Not all of its 1,934,326,280 acres produce agricultural products. Neither do all of its square miles have the same number of people. The western part, including the Corn Belt, is the great food producing area. The East is the section in which most of the people live.

Approximately two-thirds of the livestock is produced west of the Mississippi River. Approximately two-thirds of the people live east of
it. More specifically, about one-third of the people live in the area from Pennsylvania northeast into New England. Thus there is a great distance between the producers of livestock and the consumers of meats.
This makes it necessary to have national concerns like Swift & Company in the slaughtering of livestock, processing, handling and selling of meats. The products handled by meat packers average to move more than one thousand miles from producer to consumer.

Martha Logan Recipe for INDIVIDUAL SWISS STEAKS

3 to 4 pounds round steak (cut 2 inches thick)	1/2 cup lard 2 onions 2 cups cooked tomatoes 1 cup flour
---	--

Salt, Pepper

Cut steak in serving size portions. Season meat and place on well floured cutting board. Cover with flour and pound with meat hammer or edge of heavy saucer.
Continue to turn, flour and pound meat until all flour is taken up. Brown sliced onions in lard in heavy skillet. Remove onion and brown steaks on both sides.
Place onions on top of meat. Add tomatoes. Cover and bake slowly in a moderate oven (350° F.) 2 1/2 to 3 hours.
Diced vegetables may be cooked in with the meat during the last half hour.
Serves 6 to 8.

You BET There's Competition!

Recently I spoke to a meeting of livestock producers. When I had finished talking, the chairman asked if any persons in the audience wanted to ask questions.
Immediately one livestock man stood up. "Is there any competition in the buying of our livestock?" he asked. Naturally, my answer was,
"Yes." I went on from there to an explanation...

One of the best evidences of competition is found in United States Government figures. They show that there are more than 3,500 meat packers in the United States. Also there are 22,500 other commercial slaughterers of livestock. Surely this means much competition. Of course, Swift & Company does not come in competition with every one of these 26,000
slaughterers at every point
at which it buys livestock.
However, there is no place in the United States but what Swift & Company does come in competition in the buying of livestock with one or more of the 26,000 slaughterers.

Here's another fact about competition. At practically all markets in the country there are order buyers. During a year they buy for up to hundreds of meat packers. No individual buys for several hundred on any one day. But when the meat packers whom they represent need livestock, these order buyers are out competing with Swift & Company and every other buyer in the market.

The foregoing are just two examples of the many to be found indicating the ever present competition in our business.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

DREW PEARSON

NIMITZ WILL RESIGN
WASHINGTON. — Adm. Chester Nimitz, hero of the Pacific and one of the most efficient leaders of the navy, has indicated to friends that he will retire as chief of naval operations after about one year of his four-year appointment. Backstage reason is that Nimitz finds his job chiefly requires lobbying naval appropriations through congress, and he would much rather be at sea than playing politics. Furthermore, Washington society is running him ragged.

Mrs. Nimitz doesn't feel the same way at all about Washington society—which perhaps is one reason why the admiral wants to get out of the capital. He hates dinners, loathes cocktail parties and feels ill-at-ease at receptions. But Mrs. Nimitz loves them and insists on dragging her husband along when she makes the rounds.

Rigors of war in the Pacific now have begun to look like heaven in contrast with social Washington and when the right time comes next year, the admiral plans quietly to pull out.

Note—Grandson of a Texas hotel-keeper, Admiral Nimitz hopes to retire to Texas or the California coast.

PRESIDENTIAL SEASICKNESS

Those who suffer from stomach maladjustments when they travel by sea or air will be glad to know that President Truman not only sympathizes with them but also has found a fairly good remedy for seasickness. The cure is not 100 per cent effective, however, and that is one reason the President's yacht turned south.

Mr. Truman had a bottle of seasickness pills with him on his recent cruise—a remedy concocted by the Canadian army for use by its troops when they crossed the Atlantic or went ashore in tank landing barges. It is supposed to be the best thing so far developed to cure seasickness.

The President always carries a bottle with him when afloat and eats the pellets almost as if they were candy. On his first important sea trip aboard the cruiser Augusta to Potsdam one year ago, he took this medicine along and apparently avoided seasickness.

However, Mr. Truman, born and raised on the Midwest prairies, doesn't get the same kick out of the sea as did F.D.R.

HUSHED-UP INCIDENT

Tenseness of the Russo-American situation in southeast Europe is illustrated by an incident in Austria so far hushed up by the censors.

For some time, the Soviet government has been pressing Gen. Mark Clark to permit cross-examination of Yugoslav, Baltic and other displaced persons in Austria. Many of them rebelled against going back to their homelands for fear of Soviet reprisals, but some were willing to go. Finally General Clark agreed that the Soviet could send in 12 men to ask them questions.

While the Soviet team was at work with the displaced persons, General Clark was getting secret information from one of the D.P.s as to what was going on. Eventually this informant reported to Clark that he was under Soviet scrutiny.

So Clark secretly placed an American machine gun in a room above the informant's and another machine gun on the roof of the building opposite.

A night or two later a squad of Russians drove up to the informant's home, knocked down his door and carried him out in the street. Immediately the U. S. troops turned on their searchlights and arrested the Russians.

Here was the pay-off. Our allies, the Russians, were dressed in the uniforms of American military police.

TRIGGER-HAPPY TITO

The question of using "horse-and-buggy" tactics to calm Dictator Tito of Yugoslavia, especially the navy's dispatch of cruisers to Trieste, has been criticized privately inside the U. S. armed forces.

U. S. warships at the head of the Adriatic, according to army men, could be caught in a trap and might be sunk with one bomb. Furthermore, the cost of operating one cruiser in contrast to an airplane is tremendous.

Therefore, U. S. army commanders in Europe have proposed that we send one or two B-29s over Yugoslavia to see what Tito's trigger-happy warriors do about it.

ELDER STATESMAN BARUCH

Kindly elder statesman Bernie Baruch has made a private proposition to the state department that he be allowed to read its secret cables from diplomatic posts throughout the world. These are a gold mine of information for which any business man or banker would give his eye-teeth. Baruch promised, a little naively, that if he was given the daily secret intelligence summary of world affairs, he would show them only to his two investment-banker assistants.

Kathleen Norris Says:

Marrying From Fear

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"Rose-Marie wishes to marry a fine young lawyer, who already shows signs of political advancement. He is rich, handsome, devoted."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"POVERTY was the cause of the miserable circumstance of which I am writing you," says the letter of a Portland mother. "My husband died in 1932, leaving me with two children, a boy of 14 and a girl of 10. Destitute, I had to work hard for some years to support them, and at 16 my girl took a job in a law office. The boy had then won a scholarship and was living in another town.

"Four months after she started work my daughter confessed to me her love for the office boss, her relationship with him and that she expected a child. I was then keeping a boarding-house in which my oldest boarder was a man of 76 who had considerable property. He had long wanted to marry me, and in my desperation I now consented to the marriage, closed my house, and insisted that he and I and Rose-Marie go on a trip to Mexico. Where we really went was to a big eastern city, where the baby was born. At this time my husband was stricken with paralysis; we came back to our home, where all our interests were, and I represented the child as mine. At the time I was only 38, so that that statement was not questioned. This man lived until a few months ago.

"The situation now is that Rose-Marie wishes to marry a fine young lawyer, who already shows signs of political advancement. He is rich, handsome, devoted. Meanwhile the contemptible married man who was Rose-Marie's boss has been widowed; he is 61, a successful business man, but to me he would be personally disagreeable even if I did not bitterly resent his betrayal of my little girl when she was only 16. The man she has now promised to marry knows nothing of her story, and if I can prevent it, never will, but the older man, Harold—my splendid little granddaughter's real father, is quietly blackmailing me into a third marriage; the thought is unspeakably revolting to me, but by marrying this tiresome, self-satisfied little man of 61 I feel that I can absolutely safeguard my daughter's new happiness.

Rose-Marie's Future.

"It is great happiness, it is real happiness, Mrs. Norris. Rose-Marie has grown, has developed in these bitter years. She truly loves this new man, she wants to share a dignified and interesting life with him; she can do it, I know she can—and she will. But it will be at terrible cost to me. Harold knows that this darling eight-year-old girl is his daughter, for my heart-broken Rose-Marie naturally told him of her agonizing plight. He can hold this knowledge over us all; he has letters to prove it.

"Can you advise me? Just two points more. Jane, the little girl, intensely dislikes Harold. And Rose-Marie, believe me when I say this, is a gentle, fine, clean-hearted girl, far stronger in character than many girls her age who have been more fortunate. As I began by saying, poverty wrought this terrible and perplexing pattern

"This tiresome little man of 61..."

A DREADFUL PROSPECT

Covering up the first false step generally means that a chain of difficulties has been started. So it was for the unhappy mother whose letter is answered in this column.

Rose, the daughter, is engaged to a young lawyer whom she loves dearly. He is handsome, rich and politically ambitious. A dark secret in Rose's past threatened to mar her happiness, however. She has a child, born when she was only 16. Her mother, a widow, married an old man, and passed the child off as her own to protect Rose's name. Now Rose's seducer, a middle-aged man who was her employer, threatens to expose Rose unless her mother will marry him.

and surely it is cruel to have the generations go on paying so bitterly for what is no one's fault."

Poverty is hard, my dear Janet; I know it well. But no girl gives herself to a middle-aged married man in the first weeks of their acquaintanceship just because of poverty. Rose-Marie should have been better armed for the fight with life.

Your idea of marrying her seducer is fantastic; he has no legal claim upon her or upon the child. Rose-Marie can clear this whole thing up—and I think in justice to you she must—by telling her present sweetheart the whole story.

Harold Can't Do Much Harm.

It is possible that he will break the engagement and leave her. Political careers and histories like this one don't mix. Or it is possible that he will look at the situation honestly and generously. Nobody knows these facts except Harold. Even if he were contemptible enough to start a whispering campaign, the probabilities are all against his getting very far with it.

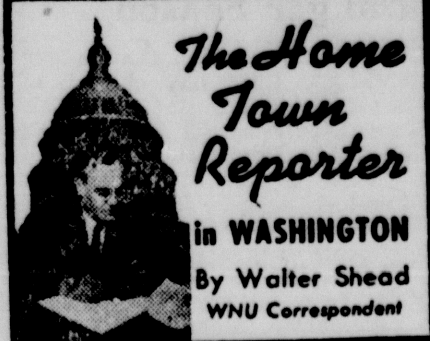

Jane is established as your child, the child of your late marriage to the old man. To break out with evidence of her real parenthood would mark Harold as a scurrilous blackmailer, and hurt him incurably with all decent folk. The chance of his doing this is, I believe, negligible; that is, if he knows Rose-Marie has made it all clear to her promised husband.

If she marries him keeping these facts a secret then Harold really holds against her happiness and security a deadly weapon, that may well ruin her life. It is too bad that women must pay so high for the mistakes of girlhood, but we are made that way, and everything that emancipation and independence can do cannot seem to lessen that situation. For your sake and the sake of innocent little Jane I can only advise an honest explanation to Rose's young man, and then a confident going forward in the hope that any scandal started by Harold would react against himself more than against the girl he betrayed. For you to make two loveless marriages to save the situation would merely complicate everything.

Russians Like Jazz

Eddie Rozner, one of the most popular and hottest jazz band leaders in the Soviet Union, has been brought sharply to task by the government newspaper Izvestia, which declared that his programs were trivial and had "nothing in common" with what Soviet audiences love.

Rozner directs the White Russian state jazz band, and tickets always are sold out for his shows. He says he picked up his technique in his youth in New York's Harlem.

Residential Mortgage Debt For '47 to Reach 41 Billions

COST of construction, purchase and credit in the housing program field by the end of 1947 will result in a net increase in the residential mortgage debt in the nation of 41.2 billion dollars, according to estimates of the Veterans' Emergency Housing Administration.

Of this stratospheric figure, Expediter Wilson Wyatt says that new homes and apartments planned under the VEHA will need credit of 15.4 billion dollars and that existing homes not under the program are expected to require an additional 14.5 billions; or a total of 22.9 billion dollars for the period.

Add to this figure costs for purchase and repairs of existing homes of 8.3 billions this year and 5.5 billions in 1947, plus 730 million dollars in long-term new homes begun in 1945 and subtract the repayments, and you get the estimate of 41.2 billion.

While these figures seem astronomical for the two-year period, it is pointed out that in 1930 the net residential mortgage debt totaled 30 billion dollars and for 10 years during the thirties there was little home construction and some reduction in the total debt.

Far Behind Schedule

At the end of the first six months of 1946 out of the goal of 1,200,000 housing units for the year, only 498,000 units had been started with 225,000 homes completed. With shortages still continuing in some construction items and deliveries still slow and fitful, it can readily be seen that to complete the task set out for themselves, VEHA has a herculean job to do.

In a recent report the housing expediter says:

"Purchase and repairs of existing houses, as well as other non-program home financing needs, will take approximately 8.3 billion dollars of lending in 1946. In addition there are 730 million dollars in long-term mortgages on new homes begun in 1945. For 1947, non-program lending requirements are estimated at 5.5 billions, one-third less than in 1946.

"Almost half of the total need of 29.9 billions will be filled by repayments on outstanding debt, allowing for advance as well as scheduled amortization. Trends for the first four months of this year indicate that a large volume of refinancing, together with sustained high income, will result in a volume of repayments in 1946 approximately 40 per cent above the 1945 volume. In 1947, however, repayments probably will return to a level near 1945.

"Subtracting those needs which will be met by repayments, the net in the home financing debt would be 15.2 billion dollars by the end of 1947, or a total net increase in residential mortgage debt of 41.2 billion dollars. Since the total net public and private debt in 1930 was 190 billion dollars and the residential mortgage debt amounted to 30 billion dollars, the estimate of 41.2 billion dollars 1½ years hence is not excessive when compared with the present total net public and private debt estimate of 400 billions."

Plenty of Money Ready

Wyatt points out that the needs in the home financing field, insofar as VEHA is concerned, can be met from three major sources: net increased savings of individuals in lending institutions; liquid assets held by lending institutions, and potential direct investments by individuals and the secondary credit facilities of the Federal Home Loan.

With this huge jackpot of billions of dollars in the construction industry, one would think that the "take" in the usual way would be sufficient, but government already has filed several hundred suits against lumber and material companies alleging illegal practices. These include diversion of lumber to the shipper himself at a fictitious address to be held for resale; resawing without upgrading; refusing to produce standard size and turning out oversize lumber commanding a higher ceiling price and requiring remilling for construction use; charging for more lumber than delivered; cutting and delivering short lengths; illegal wholesale selling at retail prices and plain over-ceiling sales, accomplished through on-the-side cash payments or similar devices.

High Costs Feared

A "strong likelihood" that the current residential building boom will collapse within 12 to 15 months is seen by Ramsay Wood of the division of research and statistics, board of governors, Federal Reserve board.

"If prices turn down before costs have overtaken them, building may be sustained, but if, as seems more likely, costs are as high as prices when the decline comes, building will be curtailed," Wood says.

Farmers Warned
Of Hog Cholera
Danger Season

Warning against the danger of outbreaks of hog cholera in the hazardous months of early fall was issued today by the American Foundation for Animal Health.

This is one of the seasons of greatest danger from hog cholera, according to the foundation, and livestock men are advised to keep a close watch on their swine droves
and have all pigs vaccinated early.
Vaccination, along with sound sanitation practices and proper feeding, constitutes the best safeguards for a sure pig crop.

Signs of fever, loss of appetite, or weakness are danger signs, and infection can be spread rapidly by a hog coming down with the cholera before pronounced symptoms appear.

"If evidence of illness appears, suspect cholera first," the foundation statement said, "and have a veterinarian make a diagnosis at once."

The foundation statement
continued, suggesting that if cholera
does break out in the neighborhood,
"quarantine for at least two weeks
any new livestock brought to the farm. And if it occurs on the farm, notify neighbors so they can take precautionary measures."

Armored Horsepower

In World War I, an infantry division went into action with an equivalent of 3,300 mechanical horsepower, while in World War II an armored division had 400,000 mechanical horsepower — an increase of more than 120 times.

Black Horses Suffer from Heat

Black horses are affected more by heat than horses of other colors.
They absorb the sun's rays, get overheated more quickly and do not live as long as white horses. Experts in the field of animal husbandry know well the results of these experiments. However, the causes of some of these results are to this day inexplicable.

Strikes Highest Point

Lightning tends to strike the highest point in the vicinity which may be a barn, a tree, or a man working in a field. Seek adequate protection in a lightning-protected building if possible. Fairly good protection may also be had in a cave or in woodland. Never seek a storm grove or a single tree in a storm.

A Message from the Home Relief
Association of Medina County, Texas

In view of the fact that a large number of the members of the Home Relief Association have found it inconvenient to attend the annual membership meetings of the Association which are held in January of each year and in view of the further fact that there are a great number of eligible citizens of Medina county who desire to join the Association but who are not familiar with the affairs of the Association, I deem it proper to submit herewith this message, giving a brief summary of the standing of our association, together with other pertinent information.

The Home Relief Association of Medina County, Texas, is a non-profit corporation, organized by the citizens of Medina County, Texas, for the benefit of the people of Medina County, and is being operated and carried on for that purpose.

It is a corporation which operates strictly under the laws of Texas, which govern such companies, and under the supervision of the State Department of Insurance.

The President of the Association is the Hon. A. H. Rothe, County Judge of Medina County, Texas. The Directors are S. A. Jungman, A. H. Rothe, Henry Z. Windrow, Dr. H. J. Meyer, A. H. Schweers, J. H. Steinle, and J. M. Finger, all of whom are rendering their services without pay or other compensation. These directors are honorable citizens and men of integrity, who are serving for the good of the people of Medina County.

The present membership of our association is now 1192 members in good standing. All white residents of Medina County, Texas, in good health, and between the ages of 16 and 50 years of age are eligible for membership. The charge for becoming a member is Three Dollars ($3.00), which must accompany the application to become a member. This payment is returned to the applicant, if not accepted. No medical examination is required, other than in exceptional cases, and this to be passed upon by the directors.

Each member is required to pay the sum of One Dollar ($1.00) upon the death of a member, plus the sum of Fifty Cents ($0.50) semi-annually to cover the actual cost of operating the company. For illustration, there were nine (9) deaths during the Year 1945, which cost each member Nine Dollars ($9.00), plus One Dollar ($1.00) per member for the expense charge, making a total disbursement of Ten Dollars ($10.00) per member for the Year 1945. The nine beneficiaries each received the sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00), the balance of the collections being deposited to the credit of the Reserve Fund, which is steadily growing. We now have approximately Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000.00) in this reserve fund, which is invested in Bonds of the United States, bearing interest which also goes into the mortuary or reserve fund. Thus our reserve is growing, and thereby adding to the strength of the company. No death claim has ever been questioned or contested, and all have been promptly paid. The annual report, as approved by the Insurance Commissioner shows that during the Year 1945 there were nine deaths and 36 new members, and that the balance in funds at the end of 1945 was the sum of $29,744.83. All of this shows a healthy and prosperous financial condition for the Association.

All eligible residents of Medina County should avail themselves of the opportunity to become members of this fine association. If and when you are called upon to pay a dollar you will be paying it to a departed fellow citizen's loved ones, in time of distress. And if misfortune should overtake your family, by this same token they will receive the same help. Our association has no agents to solicit membership, other than its secretary; and it is strictly up to each individual to write a card to the secretary requesting a blank application, and to become a member while he or she is in good health and before it may be too late to qualify. By all working together, in co-operation, for our mutual good, we can make the Home Relief Association continue to grow bigger and stronger as the years go by.

Sincerely yours,

R. J. Noonan,

Secretary-Treasurer, Home Relief Association of Medina County, Texas.
